#307 (Vs. 1-2) All Creatures of Our God and King
 LASST UNS ERFREUEN

In the year 1225, completely blind and nearing death, St. Francis of Assisi arrived at the Convent of St. Damian to bid goodbye to his dear friend, Sister Clara, the first woman to follow the call of St. Francis and take vows of the Order. Clara built him a small reed hut in the garden of her little monastery. It is said that at times St. Francis could be heard singing faint melodies from within the hut. It was at a meal with the sisters after having stayed for some time at the monastery that he wrote his famous text, "Canticle of the Sun," later paraphrased into the beloved hymn we sing today. As we sing this hymn, we join with Christians throughout the ages and with all of Creation to sing our praises to God the Creator. Psalm 145 says, "My mouth will speak in praise of the LORD. Let every creature praise his holy name for ever and ever." This is our call and our invitation, and now, using the words God has given us through the voice of a Saint, we answer that invitation with a joyful "Alleluia!"

GOSPEL LESSON

Mr. William Henry Caldwell

Leader: The Gospel of the Lord according to Matthew.

People: Praise be to you, O Christ.

Matthew 28:16-20: Now the eleven disciples went to Galilee, to the mountain to which Jesus had directed them. When they saw him, they worshiped him; but some doubted. And Jesus came and said to them, "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything that I have commanded you. And remember, I am with you always, to the end of the age."

Leader: For the Word of God in Scripture, for the Word of God among us, for the Word of God within us.

People: Thanks be to God!

On Ma Journey arr. Edward Boatner

On my journey now Mount Zion on my journey now, Mount Zion, well I wouldn't take nothing Mount Zion for my journey now, Mount Zion. One day one day, I was walking along, well the elements opened and the love come down, Mount Zion. On my journey now Mount Zion on my journey now Mount Zion well I would take nothing Mount Zion for my journey now Mount Zion. Well I went the valley, and I didn't go to stay, well my soul got happy, and I stayed all day Mount Zion. On my journey now Mount Zion on my journey now, Mount Zion, well I wouldn't take nothing Mount Zion for my journey now, Mount Zion. You can talk about me just as much as you please; well I talk about you when I get on my knees, Mount Zion. On my journey now Mount Zion on my journey now, Mount Zion, well I wouldn't take nothing Mount Zion for my journey now, Mount Zion.

#23 (Vs. 1-2) All Things Bright and Beautiful
ROYAL OAK

In his book on hymns, Albert Bailey writes of this particular one, "For once Mrs. Alexander has forgotten her theology and lost herself in the beauty of nature." Many of us, if not all, have had these moments. Whether we're in a park, on a mountain, at the sea or a lake, or simply driving down the highway with a glorious sunset behind us, it is not difficult to find ourselves lost in the beauty of God's creation. These scenes should bring to mind Genesis 1:31: "And God saw all that he had made, and it was very good." Albert Bailey is perhaps mistaken when he claims that Alexander forgot her theology in the writing of these verses. For when we are in the midst of God's creation, are our ideas of who God is not being shaped by all that we see? God made a good creation, and He loves it. Our God is a good God, who gives us good things, and then tasks us with taking care of them. Our God is imaginative, and His creation is both whimsical and sometimes startlingly majestic. Let us lift our voices in praise to our maker, the creator of all things bright and beautiful.
